DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-3, 7-14, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yaacobi et al (US 6,413,245).

Yaacobi discloses a cannula (fig. 2) to be used with a conventional syringe (not shown). The cannula has an orifice 64 to move fluid from a syringe reservoir through the orifice to an intra-ocular structure within the eye. The cannula is capable of delivering fluid into the anterior chamber of the eye.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3, and 7-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holmen (US 6,533,769) in view of Yaacobi et al and Silverman et al (US 5,478,328).

Holmen discloses the invention substantially as claimed. Holmen discloses a syringe with a needle/cannula and methods to deliver fluid into the eye as claimed. Holmen also teaches the use of a dye into the eye. However, Holmen fails to show the kind of distal tip the needle has, and the dye being used as indigo carmine.

Yaacobi and Silverman teach cannulas and needles having closed distal tips to minimize vessel and tissue damage, and the orifice being in a location inward of the distal tip to prevent blockage. Given the teachings, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make Holmen's needle distal tip with one of the closed distal tips shown by Yaacobi and Silverman. Doing so would have prevented tissue damage and blockage during use. Furthermore, the selection of a dye such as indigo carmine would have been obvious, since the selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use supported a prima facie obviousness determination in Sinclair & Carroll Co. v. Interchemical Corp., 325 U.S. 327, 65 USPQ 297 (1945).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 4-6, 18-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Clark, Lubeck et al, Chevalier, O'Malley et al, Hamacher, Alchas, Malmin, Cappucci, Fischer, and Pfleger.
8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
